

WF Community Book Read 2023

She Speaks

As of February 7, 2023

The Book

Join in and read: She Speaks, Women's Speeches that Changed the World, from Pankhurst to Thunberg. In this book, Yvette Cooper tells the story of female oratory. She introduces each speech to help the reader understand context and impact. Cooper believes the voices of women have been sidelined for too long. She wants to promote, debate, and celebrate the public words of women; she argues spoken words matter, speeches matter, and that they are pathways to power. Cooper says, that "when women's voices are not heard, it undermines democracy and hurts us all."

WF Community Book Read

The Women's Fund utilizes the annual WF Community Book Read to deepen our understanding of the role women have in history. Whether you read it alone or with others via a book club or organizational effort, you celebrate National Women's History Month. This is a chance to honor the achievements and contributions made by women. This year, a special experience to culminate the speeches included in She Speaks is underway.

Your Invitation...a Collective Effort

Help bring this event to fruition and fund a WF Flash Grant to Ex Fabula!

In this partnership, Ex Fabula demonstrates its expertise in connecting community through the art of true, personal storytelling at this event. Several people read a speech from the book, She Speaks that resonates with them, and then share personal stories.

Gifts in any amount help offset expenses associated with the event and funds the WF Flash Grant to Ex Fabula. Will you add your name to the list?

Goal: $5,000
